The delegations will be chosen within a few days and the trip to Hardwick on Aug. 28, when the convention opens, will probably be made by automobile.

"Murphy's puzzle" is causing mental disorder. Barrettes think it can be solved only by standing on the head. It is causing more trouble than the war. The publicity agent has applied for police protection. He promises that Mr. Eugene Murphy will positively give the solution either to-night or to-morrow night from the Barre opera house stage. "The Common Law" to-night is arousing much interest, with a good advance sale.

Miss Lucille Ewen, who has been passing a week's vacation with her mother, Mrs. Elsie Ewen, of Orange street, returned yesterday to New York City. Friends of Miss Ewen will be interested to learn that she has secured a position with Vogue, a well known fashion periodical. After leaving The Times, where she was employed for several years, Miss Ewen was employed on the staff of the New York Press. She assumed her new duties to-day.

Word was received in the city yesterday of the death of Mrs. John Hayes, which occurred at her home on North street at Burlington, following a few weeks' illness. Mrs. Hayes suffered a shock some time ago and failed to regain her normal health. Mrs. Hayes is survived by her mother, who resides in Ireland, and also five sisters, Mrs. Michael Keefe, with of Alderman Keefe, and Mrs. Paul Kingston, both of Barre, are sisters of the deceased and they left Saturday for Burlington. The funeral was held at St. Mary's church this forenoon at 9 o'clock. The interment was made in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Quite an exciting game of baseball took place Saturday afternoon on the Pleasant street alley between the Alley Bunch and the Rufflocks of Pleasant street. One of the features of the game was the remarkable pitching of G. Smith for the winners. He fanned 15 batsmen during the 11 innings required to decide the winning team. The final score was 1 to 0 with the Alley Bunch in the lead. Parks and Bruno were the mainstays of the losers.

Peter Desautels, who has acted as manager of the local offices of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. for the past few years, completed his duties Saturday and left for Berlin, N. H., where he will be located permanently. Mr. Desautels has been connected with the Metropolitan company for 16 years. Previous to coming to Barre he was located at Holyoke, Mass., Winooski and Burlington. He has been in charge of the Barre management for the past five years and a half. The appointment of Mr. Desautels to the Berlin management is a promotion. Mr. Desautels will be joined by his family later. The vacancy caused in the Barre force will be filled within the coming week.

The great degree of enthusiasm and joy that swept the ranks of the Italian A. C. baseball fan broke loose in the form of a demonstration Saturday night. The big demonstration was in honor of the baseball team representing the club that won the city championship by defeating the Barre A. C. in the afternoon. Upwards of 200 adherents of the club gathered at the headquarters of the club shortly before 8 o'clock. A concert was rendered in front of the clubrooms by Calcegni's famous band players. Then a procession was formed and marshes made up and down North Main street. Amodeo Calcegni, leader of the band, and one of the most ardent rooters of the Italian team, marshalled the procession. The funeral dirge was rendered as the players passed the Barre A. C. clubrooms. Shortly after 10 o'clock the demonstrators gathered about the Lamorey clothing store and carried Joe Weaver, their pitcher, on their shoulders through North Main street to the clubrooms. An infernal reception was tendered to the players at the clubrooms. It is understood that a banquet will be tendered to the championship team later in the month.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Through the D. A. Perry Real Estate Agency, Mr. and Mrs. George E. C. Wheaton of Barre Town have sold their farm containing 180 acres to Philbrook Batchelder and wife of East Montpelier. Consideration is said to be around $8,000. This transaction includes the entire hay crop and all growing crops. Mr. and Mrs. Wheaton will remain on the farm for a short time and will later move to their property in this city.

At the auction Tuesday of the timber lots in Chelsea an excellent opportunity is afforded for reforestation. The timber tract contains 160 acres and there is a large amount of hard and soft wood now ready for lumber. The D. A. Perry Real Estate Agency is to conduct the sale and will be glad to carry parties from this city who wish to attend the sale. The sale starts at 10:30 and parties from here will leave at 8:00 o'clock.

LABOR DELEGATES OFF.

Leave Barre for A. F. of L. Convention in Bellows Falls.

Nine delegates representing labor organizations affiliated with the Central union of Barre and vicinity will participate in the deliberations of the state branch of the A. F. of L., which begin in Bellows Falls to-morrow. A deputation of eight Barre labor men left for the convention town this morning and others may follow when the convention activities reach their height. The proceedings at the convention this year are likely to be of an unusually important nature, inasmuch as the state branch contemplates making a decided stand on certain measures that are to be brought before the general assembly in the fall. One of the delegates to-day, that workingmen's compensation will be one of the live issues while the convention is in session and a committee will be elected to carry before the legislators a definite program in the interests of compensation for injured workingmen.

Another Barre labor man who stands high in the councils of labor said he had in his pocket resolutions condemning the militarist movement that has converted Europe into an armed camp and protesting against the inflation of food prices. A third delegate, also prominent in labor circles, who does not live in the city, declared that flour had jumped $1 a barrel in his town in consequence of the continental war.

Among those who left for Bellows Falls to-day were: Alexander Ironside, from the Central Labor union, George C. Stewart, vice-president of the state branch, Alfred Milne, who will represent the granitecutters, John Croteau, a delegate from the plumbers' union, William H. Eager, a member of the clerks' association and one of the state auditors of the branch, Frank Reilly of Graniteville, a quarryworkers' representative, Arthur Rossi from the steam engineers, Andrew Young of the tool sharpeners' union and Fred Baldwin, who was delegated by the painters and the musicians. Sec. Fred W. Sutor of the quarry workers' association, is absent on a business visit in Cleveland, but he will return to Vermont in time to attend the convention. Fred Beal, a prominent Bethel granitecutter, is president of the state branch.

CHELSEA.

Special Term of County Court to Dispose of Avery Case.

Hon. Frank L. Fish of Vergennes, presiding Judge at the June term of Orange county court has notified the county clerk that a special session of court will be held at the court house on Tuesday afternoon, August 18th, to dispose of the case of state vs. Wallace Avery, who is now in the county jail charged with the crime of rape.

John Larrabee, who has been working during the hay season for Arthur E. Bacon of North Tunbridge has completed his services there and returned home.

The annual meeting of the Orange County Farmers association will be held here on August 29, at 4 o'clock, p. m., when a full attendance is desired of all who are interested in the work. Harry N. Sanborn has rented the old meat market and as soon as some minor changes and repairs can be made will occupy the same as a harness shop. The shop he vacates in the second story of the same building has been occupied as a harness shop for three quarters of a century.

Hon. and Mrs. A. E. Enright and daughter of Kansas City, Kan., were guests for a day last week of the former's brother, Rev. A. B. Enright, at the Methodist parsonage. Mr. Enright is a graduate of U. V. M. after which he read law and has been engaged in its practice in the west for several years. He is superior oracle of the Royal Neighbors, an insurance organization of women and her work extends over a large portion of the United States. They were accompanied from Burlington by Rev. Mr. Enright's daughter, Miss G. E. Enright.

Joseph H. Edwards, a Chelsea boy, who has been a successful merchant in Norfolk, Va., for several years was in town for a few days last week renewing old acquaintances and while here was the guest of his father, Filmore Edwards, on the west hill.

Alden Bacon of Barre came last week to spend a few days with friends in town and is the guest of his brother, Charles A. Bacon.

Enoch Lyford has finished a term of several months labor for Marshall Banister of South Randolph and is now working for his brother, Herman N. Lyford of South Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Goodrich of Northfield were Sunday guests of friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville W. Baker of Concord were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Robinson.

The midsummer issue of "Tenney Service" is designated as "Vermont Service" and a goodly portion of its contents is given over to Barre and the territory immediately contiguous that is covered by the Tenney power and lighting lines. The cover piece is a picture of one of the water powers owned by the company and an excellent likeness of Camel's Hump appears in the background. James R. Ryan of this city, power agent for the Consolidated Lighting Co., writes interestingly of the granite industry and its connection with Tenney service and his contribution is copiously illustrated with cuts that include the Burns monument, the Vicksburg soldiers' memorial, cut from the native stone, and some of the company's transformer stations. Others whose contributions help to make the number attractive are Manager H. D. Larabee of the Consolidated Co., C. A. Lawrence, a superintendent of power plants, and General Manager H. T. Sands, who has written an editorial on the service in Vermont.
